The Rev. Father McCarty is in town.

Dr. Nelssen, of Victoria College, died on Monday last.

Mr. C. L. Hansen is again in the city, en route from Rochester, N.Y., for Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. A. W. Reynolds is again on deck. He is determined he will give the boys neither a swelling nor a funeral.

Keeve Taylor, of Elton, was in the city Monday. He came into town to get warm, the air of Elton was so cold.

There have been six or seven weddings at the Grand View Hotel the past week, the fairies having come all the way to this "Elbow of Britain" to overset their best ones, and settle down in the western wilds for life.

The "No" law voted on last Thursday in this city for the purchase of 18th street bridge was carried by one vote. No doubt 40 or more would have been got for it, but such matters are treated with too much indifference by our people.

Mr. G. C. Bulkwill is rejoicing in the prospect of a N.W.C. crossing the river so near his property, and expects that the company will start a town at the crossing. Mr. H. says he is going to make a trip to Ontario this winter, and on his return will bring with him a lot of nials for his guest mill.

Mr. E. Clement Smith arrived in the city from England last week, and is visiting friends and winding up business, preparatory to bidding what may be a final adieu to Manitoba. Mr. Clement is a favorite with a large number of us, who regard his turnings have been good, and his associations separate from the rest.

A lady from Ontario called a meeting of a number of English ladies late on Tuesday afternoon, in the interest of Foreign missions. Some got there while wives attended the meeting, but it was later than usual for dinner, and as a consequence were bidding that the foreign mission business might be remained in foreign ports.

Mr. Alexander, of our office, has written to Mr. Alexander, to inform him that no less than five gentlemen came into the Mail office the past week, and voluntarily tendered their subscriptions to the paper, because of Mr. Alexander's displeasure with the office. We wish that, under the circumstances, he could repeat his peevish trick every week for a twelvemonth, it would be money in our pocket.

That resolution of Mr. Alexander at the council board to tax the local debating society that makes no money out of its entertainments, $10 a night for the use of the city hall, was a master stroke of genius. Mr. Alexander's policy is to exempt from taxation any bonus mills, elevators, and all that kind of institution that makes money out of the people, and make up the deficiency out of the mutual improvement societies.

The frost of Monday has driven most of the shoots in warmer quarters, so the ducks will now have a rest.

The members of the Ideal concert company will give their services in place of the choir on Sunday evening next at the Methodist church here.

Mr. Todd received a telegram from the manager of the Beatty line of steamers, instructing him to accept no more east bound freight this fall.

Mr. Vent, who lives near the Brandon Hills, shot three large sized lynx the other day after the other in the shrubbery on the Hills, and he says a neighbor killed another here.

Mr. J. A. Magee, who is well known in connection with Mr. Rose's drug store, has sold his quarter section, in 36, 7, 20, for $800. He had 40 acres broken, and a small frame house erected. Not so bad, that.

We constantly have enquiries for comfortable, warm bedrooms for gentlemen engaged in town during the day, and who board at hotels, but prefer to room with a private family. All having rooms to let at a moderate price. All would do well to insert an advertisement in our columns.

A plucky English girl went west on Sunday. She came all the way from England alone to meet her betrothed in Brandon, but unforeseen obstructions prevented his arrival here to meet her. Nothing daunted, but much disappointed, she went on to Lethbridge, where we trust she will arrive safely, and meet the reward of her indomitable courage, and live happy ever afterward.

Harry Lathem, who was with H. Mereslith & Co. last winter, leaves for England in a few days, to return in the spring with his parents, and the rest of the family, making seven souls in all. They propose locating on a farm at Souris. Well done, Harry, we want some immigration agents of your successful capacity.

So far work on the N. W. Central R. R. has been pushed ahead rapidly, about 15 miles being fully graded. Mr. Allan, one of the directors, while here last week paid up every dollar of the monthly estimate, the amount being over $60,000. He says the work will be prosecuted vigorously, and payments will be met promptly every month.

Mr. W. Pares, who lives a few miles east of the town, had the misfortune to have a valuable team of horses burned to death on Tuesday evening last. During the heavy wind that prevailed just before the rain a spark from the chimney of the house set fire to the stable, which was totally destroyed. One of the horses turned was well known as winner of the bunch race at Brandon fair. The horse Becker also had a narrow escape.

Can any one tell us why the barbers charge 35 cents for hair cutting, considering that a man can learn the trade in a month, and that it requires little or no capital to start in the business? We do not wonder that the people consider the charge excessive. A good man can cut six persons' hair in an hour, which would bring $2.00, a much larger amount than most people can earn in a day of severe toil. There seems to be a good opening here for competition.

The by-laws demand the McLeanian elevator $1,500 was, as was generally expected, defeated on Thursday last, but 67 votes being cast for it. This is pretty fair evidence the taxpayers of this city are coming to their senses. We understand Mr. Alexander feels annoyed over the result, but he need not, as for the return he is going the city, calling the surrounding farmers away to Ilam Creek, and elsewhere for their grazing, he has in business and exemption from taxation been, we think, fully well paid.

The council of Woodworth municipality has been asked by the Winnipeg agitators to endorse the anti-slavery platform framed by them, but the council refuses to do so, they are opposed to any scheme to concur roads, that is not shown has law and constitution on its side. They feel the C.P.R. has a monopoly at least in the added territory, no matter how it goes in the old province, and any step saddling them with a debt, for which they cannot legally get an equivalent, they repudiate in toto, and it shows their good payment.

The cold snap here most of our local sportsmen, who had spent a few days meandering around the lake and islands to the south and west, and as might have been expected, their reports vary according to the length of their consciences. Judge Walker, of course, brought home about 40 wild geese, several hundred ducks, and a great many chickens, but he is magnanimous enough to say he left some behind he did not stay. Mr. A. C. Fraser, another one of the party, brought home a bad cold, and a wish he had remained at home, where the hardships of book keeping would not have been as trying on his nerves. S. H. Bower brought home a portly form, but slightly reduced in weight; Martin McDonald secured a few abstracts, teals and other kinds of fowl. These gentlemen had been to Whitewater, C. C. Hellwell, G. R. Coldwell, H. J. Skinner, and C. N. McDonald went to Oak Lake, where they captured a few bears, wood chuck and other fowls; while Messrs. Hesson and Rose, who went west have not yet returned. Doubtless they will be equally successful with the others.

Mr. W. S. Caine, M. P. for Barrow-in-Furness, who is prosecuting a tour through the Dominion, writes to his constituents at Barrow-in-Furness that there is a demand for agricultural laborers throughout Manitoba. He contends that if the Gleathead and Lindley tenants were generously helped out to Manitoba and were lent £100 per family and settled on homesteads in the Prairies or in the Northwest Territories, they would thrive and soon become prosperous farmers. He says, the British Government, instead of embarking on the dangerous policy of Irish land purchase, would spend £20,000,000 in settling gradually in Manitoba and the Northwest 200,000 Irish families, there would be no difficulty in getting back the money.

A FIERCE GALE.

The Storm Raging with Unabated Fury on Lakes Superior and Huron.

STEAMERS AND SCHOONERS ASHORE—A BARGE LOST WITH FIVE PERSONS.

The Alberta and the United Empire Obliged to put Back for Safety.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 24.—The wind calmed a little this morning, but about noon a northwest gale started with a heavy snow. The first mate of the schooner J. E. Potts arrived here to day, and reports the propeller Sherman and schooner Alva Bradley ashore near Marquette. The propeller George Spencer, with consorts Trenton and Tremble left here this morning, bound down, and are hard aground on the flats at the lower end of Lake George. This will block navigation up and down Lake George. The steamer Alberta and United Empire left here this morning and were obliged to return to Gordon River. Seventeen vessels are weather bound here, and the passenger steamer India, which has been anchored at Whitefish Point since Sunday, left for Sault Ste. Marie this afternoon. The passenger Lake George will probably be delayed to tomorrow afternoon. Fog and lightning leave for there in the morning. The storm is still raging.

THE DELAWARE TOTAL LOSS.
Chelboway, Mich., Oct. 24.—The propeller Chelboway, of the Erie and Western Transportation line, bound down with grain and flour, was caught in last night's terrible storm on Lake Huron and ran ashore near Hammonville Bay, fourteen miles below here. She is now in bad shape, and will undoubtedly be a total loss. Both anchors are badly broken, and probably broken in two, and filled with water. Her deck load can be saved, and part of the cargo in the hold. She is exposed to seas, and north-easterly winds, and is liable to break up completely at the first shaft of the wind. The ship was built from Erie, is valued at $60000, and is rated at 1/2.

FEARS FOR THE ARGONAUT.
Grand Haven, Mich., Oct. 25.—Nothing has been heard from the large Argonaut since she steamed westward last evening. As her steering gear was somewhat damaged, she was entertained for her safety. She is in great distress yesterday and the fog, Captain Leiberman and the life saving crew went to her assistance, but could do nothing for her, as she was too heavily laden to get over the waves. Both were taken men on the boat.

A VESSEL SAVED.
Frankfort, Mich., Oct. 25.—At daylight this morning the Pont Betsy ice station patrol discovered a vessel anchored about 12 miles northeast flying signals of distress. A tug was sent from here, and the life saving crew launched the surf boat to meet the tug, and be taken in tow, but the high sea made it a perilous task. When the boat reached the latter, a tremendous breakers swept over her, breaking the oars, capsizing her, and throwing the crew into the ice cold water. They made a desperate fight, clinging to the submerged craft, and were flung exhausted upon the beach. After a long struggle the tug rescued the imperiled vessel, and at dusk had her in tow, bound for South Manitou.

THE LATENT.
Marquette, Mich., Oct. 25.—The United States life saving crew from the station on the Lake Superior ship canal above Houghton arrived on the night express with their boat and crew on their way to the Alva Bradley, ashore on Shag Point, to rescue her crew. The crew of the Plymouth was taken off in yawl this evening. The Sherman has gone to pieces, and her cargo of coal is being washed ashore. There is nothing left of the vessel, though the Bradley and Plymouth are broken in two they may be saved. Word has been received here that the Flagstaff, Jura Webb, Reindeer and Lawrence are still back of Grand Island. The sea is running down, and the wind is shifting to the south fast. No loss of life is yet reported.

FIVE DROWNED.
Port Dufferin, Ont., Oct. 25.—A large boat last night in tow of a propeller, broke her tow line during the severe weather, and sank with her crew of five persons.

A SCHOONER WRECKED.
Port Burwell, Ont., Oct. 24.—The schooner Bod, belonging to Buffalo, went ashore near here early Saturday morning and is a total wreck. The captain and mate were rescued. The cook, a woman, was dashed to the mast and perished.

MILLWOOD IS TO HAVE A POST OFFICE.
Millwood is to have a new post office at section 2, township 20, range 10 west, Marquette county. It will be bossed by Mr. John Brown.

NOTES OF MOTION.
Port Dufferin, Ont., Oct. 24.—Sympathy with the Imperial Parliament in the struggle with the National League.

HOUSE SOJOURNED AT 10:30.
Young Skulps had just come from England, and being animated by a sincere desire to lead a finer and better life in this new land of ours, cast about him for some worthy means by which he could further his philanthropic idea of doing all that in him lay to improve that portion of the community with whom his lot was cast. Being a member of a certain church, it occurred to him that there was not so much brotherly love exhibited to one another as there might be, and feeling that example was better than precept, he determined to set an example which he trusted might have the effect of abolishing social or class distinctions, and inducing the rich and the poor to blend in one harmonious family. With this idea he looked about him for a subject, with which to commence operations, and did not look long. He had noticed at church upon several occasions a very good looking but deformed young girl who was always alone, and his heart felt pity for her looks, and indignation that none of the other members of the church ever attempted to introduce her, or indeed any one else to the other members of the congregation, including, of course, himself. Here was the opening he sought. He found out that she lived at a hotel, and assisted in the kitchen. This somewhat damped his ardor, but reflecting that no good object was obtained without trouble, he packed up courage, and went in to win. Introducing himself without difficulty, he invited her to accompany him to the church parsonage, which he thought would afford him a admirable opportunity of bringing his lamb into the fold, but without, of course, letting her know his object. On the appointed day he hired a gig and drove her to the place of meeting, but was much surprised to find that no one would recognize him, and that his salutations were almost totally disregarded. At the picnic, too, whenever he approached a group, they usually scattered in all directions, or appeared to be so deeply interested in conversation as to be unaware of his presence. The pastor was the only person who shook hands with them, and he appeared confused and ill at ease. Disheartened and cast down, he retired to the edge of the crowd, and was glad when a shower of rain broke up the party and sent them hitherward. But the work was to come. A few weeks afterwards he received a letter from his father, stating that owing to the respects of his wife conduct and fitness for law society, which had reached home, he had decided to discontinue his allowance, and unless his character was altered, he could cut him off with a dollar, and another letter from his mother, "wondering however he could do such things."

MONTRÉAL, Oct. 24.—Another well conceived plan to procure young girls in Montreal for immoral purposes is under the notice of the police, who have applied to be a possessing young girl for aid. According to the girl's story she was engaged about a month ago at Quebec by an elegant dressed lady, who referred the girl to a saloon keeper in Chicago and gave her address as a chamber changes. Attracted by the low stages offered, the girl went down and was soon a sitting duck and she was the property of a disreputable house. She escaped from it in a week and a company sent her home. The woman in question, who is known in Chicago under the name of French Kitten, is a notorious prostitute who resided in a house of ill-fame situated on Third avenue. Most of the inmates of the house are French-Canadian girls, probably procured in a similar way. Chief of Police Parrott has warned all young girls against accepting places for living wages in the States or elsewhere without being thoroughly convinced of the good character. Some women are procuring a number of girls from the provinces in the last few years, not only for their own money, but for several other places and use the States.

Parliamentary Debating Society.
House met on Thursday evening, Oct. 26th at 8 o'clock.

A number of new members were introduced and took their seats.

The premier in a short speech called upon Mr. Henneman in moving the adoption of the speech to be obtained by publishing the official documents in English only for pointed out what should be done on the temperance act, the H. B. railway, fisheries and inland navigation, the estimates, etc., and took his seat amidst general applause from both parties.

Mr. Faly in a laudable speech seconded the resolution. Referring to the tariff question he thought the legislation of the future should be on the protective side.

Mr. R. Matheson apologized for the Opposition not having yet placed a leader. He complimented the Government upon the able manner in which the resolution had been supported, but complained of the scanty talk of fare, and condemned the Government for not having a more elaborate policy.

The premier supported the resolution in the usual strict and forcible manner, exhorting Her Majesty as a wise sovereign. Young people of both sexes were able to think and express themselves at the poll as older ones, and females owning property should have equal rights with males. With regard to the French language the printing was a large expense, and every one could now read English or get it read. Money can better spent in roads, railways, etc. With reference to temperance, more power should be given to provincial governments. The H. B. railway should be supported by large grants. The militia should be better paid, and means should be taken for the protection of the fisheries.

The debate which became very animated, was maintained by Messrs. Brown, Peter, Robinson and many others, with considerable ability.

NOTES OF MOTION.

GENERAL KOMAROFF.

now the Distinguished Russian Won Hu
Present rank.

General Komaroff distinguished himself by military tact, audacity and resourcefulness as well as personal bravery in the Russo-Turkish campaign in Asia Minor in 1877, when he won his present rank of General. After the capture of Ardahan, near the Russo-Turkish frontier, Colonel Komaroff was left in command of a detachment which had the difficult duty of defending a considerable tract of the neighboring mountainous country, and of protecting the Russian frontier as well as covering the flank and rear of the army operating against Kars. When an urgent appeal by Loris Melikoff, was made against Erzerum, Colonel Komaroff exerted a very bold and successful master-stroke. With a flying squadron advanced from Ardahan, passed south round the enemy's flank, and came down upon a part of the Turkish line which was holding the Panak Pass in the Ardzough Range, which commanded access to the town of Olti on the northern side, whence the Turks intended to attack Ardahan. Colonel Komaroff's unexpected appearance had so alarmed that the enemy retreated in confusion fighting, and the Russians were enabled to occupy Panak and to capture two thousand prisoners and four hundred thousand cartridges.

During a subsequent period of the campaign the Russian troops were ordered to retire from Hadji-Yali, Colone Komaroff, with his detachment, found himself in a very perilous position on account of the withdrawal of the rearmost of the Russian force, which he became separated by a distance of from four to five miles, and exposed to Turkish fire from the two heights of Great and Little Yala. By a dash he drove off a hundred Turkish cavalry who were at Yala, stationed a bodyguard in their place and, in spite of their fire, brought the rest of his own force round to the other slope of the hill, where, there they were joined by re-enforcements from the Russian army in the rear of the enemy, and it was enabled to retire in the attack of the Turks on October 1st (August 11) upon an encampment at Kourienk-Dara, the latter at this date Generalissimo, for he had already advanced to that rank, was still in command to take up his stand at Karakil, four versts from the camp, and there to receive its return. It was on October 2nd that he received a wound in the leg, however did not affect the further having struck him which he wore. Generalissimo subsequently took part in the capture of Kars, and contributed an important share in that celebrated battle. At the conclusion of the war he was made commander of the Forces, and, after the final capitulation, he was placed in command of the Trans-Caspian Army. His services attribute the capture of Merv, in a manner far beyond Komaroff's former than military merit.

Men's Pea Jackets, the nobbiest and nattiest goods in the trade. Be sure and see this line. Buffalo Coats are scarce goods this season, but we have secured some good ones: procure one before they are picked over.

These Goods have all been selected by our Mr. Carsden, and are good sizes and the correct styles. This Stock, with the large assortment we bought early in the season, makes one of the finest and certainly the cheapest in the city.

Don't buy a dollars worth of Clothing until you see it.

C. E. MILLER & COMPANY

PROVINCIAL.

There are now three clergymen in Oak Lake—Mr. Quinney, Church of England, who has built a magnificent house in the suburbs, Mr. Hodges, Free-Methodist, who occupies a large and spacious manse, and Mr. Bernier, Roman Catholic, for whom a fine house is in contemplation.

A well built, rosy-cheeked gentleman, wearing an English suit of tweed, and an air that savored of that elite land, smoked a home-made Manitoba cigar as he languidly reclined in a settee at the Ryan yesterday. He was F. H. Bridges, vice-president of the Manitoba & Northwestern railroad, which runs from Portage la Prairie on a line with the north pole. It is the intention to extend the line some day to a settlement called Prince Albert, which is evidently to name that bespeaks of Royal blood. Anyway, Mr. Bridges is a had fellow met, like a great many of his countrymen. He was accompanied by W. R. Baker, and W. R. Allan, both young men. The Allans, of whom there are several, own the Allan steamship line, and are also interested in the St. Paul Construction Company, the following officers of which were elected at the annual meeting yesterday: President, Andrew Allan, Montreal; vice-president, F. H. Bridges, Winnipeg; secretary and treasurer, W. R. Baker, Winnipeg; directors, H. M. Allan, W. R. Allan, and P. G. Allan, Montreal—Pioneer Press.

In Brandon, of England, while at Birtle, Man., recently purchased 7,000 acres upon which he proposes to establish an industrial home for children. These children will be sent out from his homes in London, England, and will average between 14 and 18 years of age. Before leaving the homes they have to conduct themselves in such a manner as to be entitled to come out, lest passing a medical examination. The home will be opened to receive boys by the 1st of May next. It is intended to always have about 250 boys there. These boys are taught trades in England, and at the time here they will be taught farming and other pursuits, for which they will be found eminently fitted. The province will be supplied out of those who require such help from time to time. It is intended to permit such as are so desirous to take small portions on the estate and commence business on their own account. Over 2,000 boys have been sent to Ontario from Mr. Barnardo's homes.

Among the Indians.

"While my husband was trading in furs he came across an Indian who was taken to his lodge to die. He had inward pains and pains in all his limbs. He gave some Yellow Oil internally and applied it externally, and cured him. It also cured my husband of rheumatism, and I find it valuable for coughs and cold sore throat, etc." Mrs. A. Beaw, Cook's Mills, Serpent River, Ont.

A Good Name.

The best recommendation of anything is its popularity when it has been longest known. Throughout the Dominion of Canada there is no more effectual medicine for coughs, colds, rheumatism, sore throat, bronchitis and asthma, than Haggard's Pectoral Balsam, for sale by druggists.

He Feared no Foe.

Nero fiddled when Rome was burning. Many now-a-days seem equally indifferent to danger by the manner in which they neglect ill-health. If taken in time, there is scarcely a chronic disease which baulk Blood Bitters will not eradicate its purifying, regulating powers.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—The Edgar clique of the Globe shareholders held a meeting recently and decided to start a new newspaper, First, in opposition to the Globe. All that is now wanted is Sir John's straightforward bidding. Gordon Brown will be asked to take the editorial charge. They have long been connoisseurs of the Canadian market, and the new tabloid has been highly popular in the public point of view among us. Bring the gun out now.

Mr. John Ogilvie's Opinion.

The Montreal correspondent of the Toronto Mail says—

Mr. John Ogilvie, of the milling firm of A. W. Ogilvie & Co., has returned from a trip to Manitoba, and feels most hopefully of the prospects of that country. An immense crop of wheat, he says, has been harvested, many farmers having threshed from five to ten bushels per acre more than they expected, and with the largely increased yield present prices afford ample remuneration, ranging from $2 to $5 cents per bushel. The quality is not as good as that of last year, although it is grinding better than was anticipated, and is turning out splendid flour. It is estimated that the farmers of Manitoba will have about eight million bushels of wheat to sell, and as there is a good demand for it at present prices circulation will experience a large expansion, which will improve the position of country grain dealers and increase remunerations to Manitoba.

A FATAL PITCH-IN.

Freeman Stonelock killed in his Cab at Qu'Appelle.

The Call On Appelle correspondent furnishes the following account of the "pitch-in" which occurred at that place on Friday evening when some distance west of Qu'Appelle station a very long freight train, No. 72, from the west, broke into three pieces. The two engines and front cars which were empty, then rolled in a terrific rate down the incline approaching the station, the second engine and cars becoming derailed, and not stopping till some three hundred yards east of the station. Two center cars which were loaded, followed after these, and dashed into the first part of the train, scattering the cars in every direction. The second engine is pretty badly wrecked, the front car being mounted right on top of it. The rear end, however, was carried into the hotel hotel. The engineer escaped with hardly a mark. Two brakemen who were in one of the cars in the center part of the train had very severe injuries, both being thrown to the ground when the collision happened, but came away without any serious injury. The rear part of the train stopped at the top of the hill, and the accounts for the wreckage and number of lives unbroken being much smaller than it would otherwise have been. The Rev. Mr. Langford, of the town, was a passenger in the caboose, thus having a miraculous escape from injury right at his own door. Two wrecker teams, one from each end of the section, worked about midnight, and under the direction of Mr. Tate, the engineer, soon worked with a will, and after eight hours' hard work, got the engines and front end mangled up in the blocks, and then the damaged cars off one side, and laid the rail again. Great credit is due to all concerned for the rapid way in which the work was completed. It is impossible to say the amount of damage done, but it will be very considerable, as several cars are completely wrecked.

In a cable at Winnipeg says that the Freeman, Ex-Sheriff, who was killed in the drama, recently came to this country from St. Thomas, Ont., last July. He now resides in Brandon. He had a violent quarrel with his wife while at Qu'Appelle Saturday morning, but it was a local quarrel. He was a man of a good deal of education, and was evidently the company and conversation of all classes in the matter. It is not known yet what the result of the quarrel was. The express train from the west due Saturday night did not arrive until 2:45 p.m. yesterday, and a full hour's delay is due to the accident.
